Diamantis & Partners is a law firm based in Kinshasa and Paris providing expert advice in energy and infrastructure sectors in Africa and DR Congo in particular.

We are mainly active in the oil, gas and renewable electricity sectors, as well as in the infrastructure and natural resources (mining, agriculture) sectors. Through our offices in Kinshasa and Paris, we provide high level legal advice to economic operators present and those wishing to set up in Africa.

With a long track record of working on some of the largest projects in the region, we have advised on matters across over 50 African jurisdictions.

Diamantis & Partners' clients range from large international groups to medium-sized companies active worldwide, governments and public entities.

ABOUT

| Depth of knowledge

Diamantis & Partners was set up as a law firm dedicated to energy and infrastructure projects worldwide, with a focus on emerging markets in general and Africa in particular. It brings together complementary expertises, legal but also strategic.

Law is a technical knowledge, but it is also the reflect of thought, of culture, and of power dynamics, deeply rooted in local politics and local history. Having a knowledge which goes further than law is often a valuable advantage.

| Plurality of expertise

Our team consists of complementary profiles used to working together, all of which are knowledgeable in several fields of law, allowing for a wider span of professional attention. Having the experience of litigation is in our view beneficial to the transactional practice, and likewise, having structured complex projects and having a deep sectorial understanding is also useful in the event of litigation.

| International expertise

The firm's partners have all worked in global law firms and overseas. Paris based and active in France, the team's practice, including that of our associates, is largely international. We are used to work in various legal environments and have a long experience working with local law firms in many jurisdictions.

Some of the team's members have more than 25 years' experience working in emerging markets. In Africa, its members have worked in Egypt, Libya, Tunisia, Algeria, Morocco, Mauritania, Mali, Niger, Chad, Sudan, Senegal, Guinea, or Sierra Leone amongst others.

| Our office in the DRC

Through our office in Kinshasa, we regularly assist local and foreign operators with the implementation of their projects and transactions, from securing land rights and obtaining administrative titles to their day-to-day management (including tax issues) and contractual drafting.

Our partner, Julien Barba, as member of both the Kinshasa bar and the Paris bar, is in charge of our office in Kinshasa, particularly in the energy, mining and transport sectors, in cooperation with Jennifer Boffel Baka.

OUR SECTORS

We have been active in more than 50 African jurisdictions over the last 25 years, in some of the key infrastructure sectors such as energy, transport, telecom and natural resources.

OIL & GAS

Our firm supports clients across the entire industry helping them adapt to the changing landscape by advising the full range of strategic projects and day-to-day activities.

Highly experienced in oil and gas laws in mature and emerging markets and flexible and skilled enough to work in multiple jurisdictions worldwide, our lawyers think innovatively in response to client's needs.

We regularly assist oil companies (such as TotalEnergies, Petronas or Addax) with their oil and gas projects and transactions in Africa:

- In the oil sector, with the negotiation of concessions and operating licences, the sale of assets (production fields, pipelines, refineries) and contracts with subcontractors.

OUR PRACTICES

We bring together complementary expertises, legal but also strategic. Law is technical knowledge but it also reflect of thought, culture, of power dynamics, deeply rooted in local politics and local history.

AREAS OF PRACTICE

Here are the main practices in which we specialise and for which we have an impressive track record in Africa:

- ③ Project, Infrastructure and Concessions
- ③ M&A, Corporate law and Private Equity
- ③ Public International law
- ③ Constitutional and Administrative law
- ③ Commercial contracts
- ③ Training Programs

| Project, Infrastructure and Concessions

We have an extensive and impressive track record of concessions/BOT and PPP in the energy and infrastructure sectors in Africa. Having acted for parties on all sides of projects and transactions in Africa (sponsors, lenders, financial insurers and governmental entities), we can provide you with a unique, creative and broad perspective on deals and a strong understanding of the market overall.

This is based in particular on our interdisciplinary approach for our work, using our accumulated wealth of knowledge and experience to offer full-service counsel on construction, project M&A, concessions and other administrative contracts, O&M contracts, project development agreements.

We handle every stage of an infrastructure project, from bidding and development to achieving financial close, including development, financing, securing land rights, construction, investment in and operation of infrastructure projects and the acquisition and financing of infrastructure assets.

Our expertise covers risk diligence, permitting, land rights securization, regulatory, procurement, debt and capital markets, corporate tax and tax-exempt analysis.

| M&A, Corporate law and Private Equity

Our firm focuses on understanding business goals as well as the varied transactional, business and market risks unique to a client's situation. This approach drives us to facilitate the completion of the transaction expeditiously and creatively, while striving to protect the deal value expected by the client. We have experience across a range of sectors in Europe as in Africa, including in oil & gas, electricity, telecommunications, business services, manufacturing, restaurants, retail, sports and leisure, transportation and waste management.

| Public International law

Our practice covers the full spectrum of public international law issues, including the law of treaties, international responsibility, State and diplomatic immunities, the law of international organizations, international investment law, international human rights law, the law of the sea and international trade law.

Our firm benefits from the support of our Senior Legal Advisor, M. Pierre Bodeau Livinec, who is a Professor of Law at the University Paris Nanterre, and the Director of Studies of the International Law Association. His experience includes acting as counsel on state-state disputes such as before the ICJ, the PCA, and the ICC.

| Legislative and Administrative law

With our extensive experience in public and administrative law in France and in Africa, our firm is able to assist you in all matters relating to the legal design, construction and implementation of legislations, regulations and policies, particularly in the energy, electronic communications, audiovisual and transport sectors.

In particular, we assist African governments, parastatal clients and private clients in preparing and implementing policy change, drafting legislation and managing regulatory and litigation risk. We are able to work with clients throughout the legislative process, from the identification of initial objectives, through the drafting of new legislation, to implementation and enforcement.

We also assist companies - both incumbents and new entrants - in their development projects, their relations with regulatory authorities and public authorities, among others, in case of reforms affecting their sector. More generally, the team advises private companies and public entities on all matters of general public law, and in particular on general administrative law, administrative property law and public accounting law.

| Commercial contracts

Our team has a deep experience working with all kinds of contracts, with strengths in the marketing and services in the energy, transport, oil & gas sectors in particular, but also in technology, sourcing, supply chain, and licensing agreements.

We service the entire lifecycle of a contract, including:

- ⊗ pre-contractual advice and consultancy
- ⊗ assistance with drafting, reviewing and revising terms and conditions,
- ⊗ contract negotiation (offer, counter offer and acceptance)
- ⊗ breach of contract and remedies, such as compensatory, liquidated, and nominal damages,
- ⊗ implied contracts,
- ⊗ contract interpretation by courts including outside statements and the behavior of the parties,
- ⊗ choice of law and jurisdiction,
- ⊗ validity of electronic signatures,

Ours is a holistic approach to contractual matters and we strive to help our clients achieve their business goals and develop, protect, and monetize their key commercial assets.

| Training Programs

On request, we offer training courses given by our lawyers to our clients and their teams in order to share our experiences, reflexes and good practices in the sectors in which we specialise. For example:

- ⊗ Local Content in Africa
- ⊗ Best Practices in Drafting LNG Supply Agreements
